

Press releases

---

Press Releases

Particulates are more dangerous than previously thought

Villigen/Zürich/Leipzig, 22.03.2021

Media release by PSI about publication of the Paul Scherrer Institute PSI with ETH Zurich and TROPOS in Nature Communications.

Oxidation processes in combustion engines and in the atmosphere take the same routes

Leipzig, 24.02.2021

Efficient autoxidation chain reactions demonstrated for the substance group of saturated hydrocarbons

Drought of the century in the Middle Ages - with parallels to climate change today?

Leipzig, 05.01.2021

Leipzig researchers identify previously unknown drought period from historical sources

Indoor air in hospitals and nursing homes require more attention

Leipzig, 14.12.2020

Recommendations against the spread of COVID-19 via aerosols in rooms

Corona pandemic could be better tackled by reducing aerosol transmission

Leipzig, 08.12.2020

Working committee particulate matter (AAF) recommends concrete countermeasures for indoor areas: masks, ventilation, air purification and overhead...

RSS abonnieren

Short news

---

Short news

Statements

---

Statements

Leibniz-Institut für
Troposphärenforschung e.V. (TROPOS)
Permoserstraße 15
04318 Leipzig

Phone: ++49 (341) 2717 7060

Fax: ++49 (341) 2717 99 7060

Follow us on Twitter:

@TROPOS_de

The Leibniz Institute for Tropospheric Research is a member of the Leibniz Association.

© 2021 Leibniz Institute for Tropospheric Research. All rights reserved.